Continuation of Disposition of Claims: Claims rejected are 2,3,5,6,8,9,11,12, 14, 15,16,18,19,22,23,25,26, 28,30,31,33,35,39,43,44,46,47,49,50,52,53,55,57,58 and 60.

Art Unit: 2614

1. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed. Note MPEP 606.01.
2. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.
3. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

4. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: although not actually warranting and objection, the examiner questions the name of the initialed "SIMD" spelled out as "sing (sic) instruction stream multiple data stream" first recited on page 32 of the specification.

Appropriate clarification (if not correction) is required.

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 2614

6. Claims 2, 3, 5, 6, 8, 9, 11, 12, 15, 16, 18, 19, 22, 23, 25, 28, 30, 31, 33, 35, 39, 43, 44, 46, 47, 49, 50, 52, 53, 55, 57, 58 and 60 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The term "small" in claims 2, 3, 15, 16, 28, 30, 31, 43, 44, 49, 50, 55, 57 and 58 is a relative term which renders the claim indefinite. The term "small" is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention.

Likewise in claims 2, 15, 28, 30, 43, 49, 55 and 57, the term "large" is a relative term which renders the claim indefinite. The term "large" is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 14 and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ishii et al

The interlace-to-progressive scan convertor of Ishii (noting particularly Fig. 8) involves detection of motion for interpolation using arrangement of Fig. 8 (its output to mixer 18 of Fig. 1), wherein the arrangement includes using data from a present field (sent to stages 34, 42 and

Art Unit: 2614

46), one- two- and three-field delayed data made possible by elements 40, 44 and 56, respectively, the outputs of the memories being used in the motion detection process.

As for claim 26, plural logic elements are also used (e.g. the subtractors, switches, etc.).

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

9. Claims 1-13, 15-25 and 27-61 appear allowable (so interpreted less the indefiniteness, in view of the specification).
